

ISO 9001:2015 Online Transition Training Developed by the Certification Industry Now Available

Ever wondered what training and assessment the certification and registration industry uses for international standards? Would you like to be trained and assessed using the same offering?

The Independent Association of Accredited Registrars (IAAR) has released an online offering to provide information on the requirements of the ISO 9001:2015 quality management system standard.

This course was built by the members of IAAR—the registrars that provide certification to the standard. This is unique in that the collective expertise of the industry has come together to create an online offering that satisfies their needs and that of their customers and accreditation bodies.

This is the first time that you can participate in a course and assessment that has the collective wisdom of the certification industry.

Those completing the training will gain an understanding of the changes in ISO 9001:2015 and how these changes affect their organization's quality management system (QMS).

The Offer

This self-paced online course consists of seven competency domains to guide participants through the fundamentals of ISO 9001:2015 and how to successfully make the transition to the new standard. The course covers:

- Fundamental principles of quality management
- Quality management best practices
- Planning a QMS based on ISO 9001
- Implementing a QMS based on ISO 9001
- Performance evaluation, monitoring, and measurement of a QMS
- Continual improvement of a QMS based on ISO 9001:2015
- Preparing for a QMS certification audit

Outcomes

At the completion of the course, you will be able to:

- Identify the changes between ISO 9001:2008 and ISO 9001:2015
- Identify how ISO 9001:2015 affects an organization's QMS
- Understand how to transition to the 2015 version
- Identify the significant changes to the interpretation and use of the standard
- Adopt contemporary practices for the implementation, maintenance, and compliance to the new standard's requirements

Assessment

The course includes an assessment of knowledge competence. The assessment is open book and consists of a variety of questions designed to test students' knowledge of the standard and the differences between the 2008 and 2015 versions.

Achievement

Those successfully completing the course and the online exam will receive a certificate of completion.
